DETAILED ACTION

Examiner acknowledges the amendment filed April 14, 2008, from which claims 1-3, 5, 6, 8-11, and 14-21 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 – 3, 5, 6, 8 – 11, and 14 – 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Iliff U.S. Patent No. 5,935,060, herein after Iliff '060, cited by Applicant, in view of Weinstein U.S. PGPub No. 2005/0108051.

Iliff '060 discloses a computerized medical diagnostic system comprising a sequence of questions. The user response to these questions is recorded and used to determine the next question to be asked, or to determine the diagnosis (Iliff '060 figure 3B). Responses are validated to match the response to a partially predetermined answer (Iliff '060 figure 13). Responses and collected symptoms are scored and compared to a score threshold for determining different diseases (Iliff '060 figure 14). Once a treatment plan or set of advice has been narrowed, the result is communicated to the user (Iliff '060 figure 15). While Iliff '060 discusses incorporating parameters of the user's lifestyle and medical history into the diagnosis (Iliff '060 figure 8a), Iliff

'060 is silent regarding factoring in allergen data. However, Weinstein a reference in an analogous art discloses a system and method for developing and modifying treatment regimens. The prior art discusses incorporating factors that may affect the user's condition, such as allergens (Weinstein paragraphs 0065, 0091, figure 5A). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the lifestyle parameters of Iliff '060 with the allergen data of Weinstein, since Weinstein teaches that allergen data is important for formulating effective treatment plans (Weinstein paragraphs 0060 – 0065, 0091).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
